County Executive Recognizes Three BOCES Students for their Recycling Responsibilities

Mayville: -- County Executive Gregory J. Edwards presented a group of area students with Special Citations today in recognition of the services they provide for Chautauqua County.

Timothy Lawson, Matthew Baran, and Delbert Felt participate in the work program with Erie 2-Chautauqua-Cattaraugus BOCES at Chautauqua Lake Central School, and help with the County's recycling.

"These students help in collecting recyclable paper from the numerous bins located around the Mayville campus," Edwards said. "They attend to their duties with a smile, and are always polite."

Edwards said Timothy, Matthew and Delbert provide an important function in County government.

"I want to thank Erie 2 BOCES and Chautauqua Lake Central School for offering this program. It has worked well, and is a value to both the County and the kids."

Timothy, Matthew and Delbert collect the paper each Tuesday with their Supervisor Jane Lewis.

As part of an awards ceremony, Edwards presented the three students with Special Citations, as well as gifts from the County's Human Resources Department.

BOCES, or Board of Cooperative Educational Services, is a public education collaborative in New York State that functions as an extension of local school districts. The function of a BOCES is to provide shared services to component school districts in a manner that is effective, efficient, and fosters equity for students.

Erie 2-Chautauqua-Cattaraugus BOCES Provides Adult Education, Alternative Education, Career and Technical Education, Management Services, School Support Services, Special Education, Staff & Curriculum Development, Technology Services, and other programs at its four main centers and numerous locations throughout the region.
